1. A tank unit is located in a wood near Glinik (Altensorge -053/W17), about 10 km. southeast of Gorzow Wkp. (Landsberg/Warthe). The military installations in these woods were probably built by the Germans and after their collapse were occupied by the Russians up to 1948. The installations were in the woods between the village of Glinik and the Kostrzyn (Kuestrin)-Skwierzyna (Schwerin) highway. Off this main road, a road suitable for tanks was built; this road leads to the installation. The present tank unit arrived at the end of 1950.
2. A side track leads to the military installation from the Deszczno (Dechsel) railway station, which is on the Gorzow-Skwierzyna railroad line.
3. The headquarters of the tank unit are located in a villa in Deszczno. There is also a Soviet headquarters located here.
4. Polish tank units were also stationed in the woods near Bogdaniec (Duhringshof-053/V97), about 12 km. southwest of Gorzow, in Barnowko (Berneuchen-053/V78), about 23 km. north of Kostrzyn, and in Mysliborz (Soldin-053/Q70).
